

Noam Chomsky Speaks on Palestine

Noam Chomsky is a prolific author of several dozen books and an Institute Professor Emeritus at MIT, where he taught for over half a century. He will be speaking as part of Boston University Israel Apartheid Week.

Israeli Apartheid Week (IAW) is an annual international series of events held in cities and campuses across the globe. The aim of IAW is to present the nature of Israel as an apartheid system and build Boycott, Divestment, and Sanctions (BDS) campaigns as part of a growing global BDS movement.

Speaker(s): Noam Chomsky, Professor Emeritus, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT)

When Tuesday, Mar 2, 2010 at 7:00pm until 9:00pm on Tuesday, Mar 2, 2010

Where College of General Studies, 871 Commonwealth Avenue (CGS 129 - Jacob Sleeper Auditorium)

Who Open to General Public
Admission is free

More Info Facebook Page

Contact BU Students For Justice in Palestine
Ian Chinich
busip@bu.edu

NIS

RETURN