Dear Mr. Klein, Dr. Goldblatt, and Ms. Tuchman:

I have received your letter of April 12, 2012, regarding the article in the student publication, The Medium, which was falsely attributed to Aaron Marcus. Thank you for your kind words regarding my statement of April 6, 2012, condemning the Medium's actions.

Please note that the First Amendment limits the ability of Rutgers, as a public institution, to discipline students and student organizations based on the content of articles published in student publications, even when such articles are distasteful and offensive. That being said, I will take the suggestions outlined in your letter under consideration as the university addresses this situation.

Thank you for expressing your concern.

Sincerely yours,

Richard L. McCormick
