the scariest people (the goernment and those who can afford to pay) already have all this information and more. I really dont understand why so many people try to say that a name is private information cuz it's not really...

It's not private at all, and these idiots trying to make it out to seem like some ~evil offense~ to post a screenshot taken from a public profile on a public social networking site willingly frequent and post to

My vendetta isn't with them and I could care less who the fuck they are

These pathetic rejects can't think of anything else to cry about so they fall back to ~~doxxing~~ because noticed how every other point I made was ignored

But oh well

Such is the life of a piece of shit~

apparently Mo is unable to block out our first and last names reliably. poor baby :(:(doesn't seem quite as accidental the second time, does it?

It wasn't an accident :)

I did it the first time out of courtesy when I first posted that picture this morning

But then you decided to pull some shit out of your ass and hurl these bullshit accusations at which point I stopped giving a shit or bother with common courtesy :) :

Anonymous asked: Why does it seem like people are always trying to "take you down"??? You're great and they're not and fuck those ignorant loaves <3

It's always the same people for whatever that's worth~ [and then they try to claim that I'm the one with a "personal vendetta"??]

And thank you <3

Although I can't say I've ever heard "loaves" used as an insult against someone hahahha
