

Northwestern People's Resolution

Northwestern University must stop supporting Israeli apartheid and occupation. We, students, staff, and community members demand that Northwestern

1. PROTECT STUDENT CIVIL LIBERTIES AND SAFETY

American academic institutions have become hostile spaces for anti-war, anti-apartheid, and pro-Palestine speech. Northwestern University is no exception, curtailing speech and intimidating students and educators. We call on President Schill to condemn the targeted harassment of students and the disproportionate censorship of pro-Palestine speech, to affirm and protect student civil liberties, and to build a safe environment for intellectual and political expression.

2. END PARTNERSHIPS THAT LEGITIMIZE GENOCIDE AND OCCUPATION

Through academic partnerships such as the Israel Innovation Project (IIP), Northwestern contributes to the legitimization of occupation and genocide, and of the large apparatus of propaganda, white-washing, and scholasticide that support it. The IIP routinely platforms right-wing Zionist officials, including former Israeli prime minister Ehud Olmert, who openly endorses ethnic cleansing. Furthermore, as a STEM partnership, the IIP is complicit in strengthening the Israeli military-industrial complex and its capacity for surveillance and AI-powered apartheid. We demand that Northwestern University immediately cease the IIP and other collaborations with Israeli institutions that maintain and support apartheid and that it take a public stance for a permanent ceasefire.

3. DISCLOSE AND DIVEST FROM WAR AND APARTHEID

The Northwestern administration chooses to hide its direct and managed investments, failing its own commitments to transparency and accountability. Students, faculty, staff, and other stewards of the university's success ask that our tuition, labor, care, and trust not be misused to enrich institutions and companies that support and maintain apartheid, occupation, and the oppression of the Palestinian people. We demand that Northwestern divest from all defense stocks and investments and from all companies that support Israeli apartheid. To this end, we demand that all future investment decisions be made with input from a recurring committee of students, staff, and community stakeholders.

ONGOING ATROCITIES

For the last 6 months, the people of Gaza have been victims of one of the most atrocious and monstrous sieges in modern history, as Israel has brutally killed over 33,000 Palestinians (400+ in the West Bank). After months of tightening what has—for the last 76 years—been a brutal and insufferable occupation, Israel is leading a multifront war on the people of Palestine that can only be described as ethnic cleansing and genocide.

Despite the immense loss of life and all that sustains it, US diplomatic, military, and top academic institutions have chosen to stand firmly on the side of terror. Northwestern is no exception. At a time when the international are raising their voices to denounce Israel’s disregard for human dignity and international law, the leadership of Northwestern has chosen to silence anti-war voices, intimidate students and scholars, platform Zionist narratives and provide cultural and material support to institutions that participate in the oppression of the Palestinian people.

STUDENT RIGHTS UNDER THREAT

Northwestern’s prioritization of its donors and financial stakeholders over the liberty of political expression on campus has come at the expense of the safety of Arab, Muslim, Jewish, Black, Indigenous, and other voices of dissent against occupation, apartheid, and genocide. Egregiously, two Black Northwestern students were arrested under an obscure anti-KKK law for distributing a parodied cover of The Daily Northwestern that critiqued the paper’s coverage (or lack thereof) of the genocide; the charges were later dropped by Cook County State’s Attorney’s Office after public pressure from students and faculty. This instance is not an isolated, apolitical act but rather part of the more general disproportionate censorship of pro-Palestine speech on campus.

On November 13th, President Schill announced the appointment of an Advisory Committee on Preventing Antisemitism and Hate. As stated in the President’s letter, this decision emerged from a series of conversations, including a discussion with Michal Cotler-Wunsh, Israel’s Special Envoy for Combating Antisemitism, who openly argues for the equivalence of anti-Zionism and antisemitism. In the same November letter, President Schill stated that the Northwestern community should “emphatically reject statements or banners that significant parts of our community interpret as promoting murder and genocide,” including the slogan “From the River to the Sea.” To unilaterally assert that this statement should fall outside the bounds of university-protected free speech disregards its history as a call against “the fragmentation of Palestinian land and people by Israeli occupation and discrimination.” As Harvard faculty have argued, the attack on this slogan as inherently eliminationist is both inaccurate and irresponsible. It asymmetrically delegitimizes pro-Palestine speech and fails to mention the removalism and eliminationism proper to various statements associated with the Israeli state and, more importantly, with its concrete actions. As legal scholar Noah Zatz points out, censoring this phrase on campuses “relies on pervasive racist and anti-Muslim stereotypes of Palestinians as endemically hateful, violent, deceptive, and hostile to Jews” and constitutes a violation of Palestinian students’ civil rights.

More recently, the president established yet another advisory body, the Committee on Free Expression and Institutional Speech, whose stated goal is “to examine what are the boundaries, if any, for free expression and academic freedom.” Between establishing bodies to police our tone, arresting students for exercising their rights, and openly calling for the silencing of pro-Palestinian voices, it is clear that our institution’s singular response has been one of censorship of any and all voices deemed uncomfortable or challenging to the status quo.

These intimidation and censorship tactics have had a nefarious effect on our campus culture, and on our ability to express ourselves freely and to responsibly exercise our intellectual and ethical duties as students and educators. This is a moral, epistemic and pedagogical failure, which threatens the very core of the university’s mission. Yet the problem is not limited to asymmetric silencing and censorship, as Northwestern is complicit in the active production of narratives that legitimize and sustain oppression.

PARTNERS IN GENOCIDE

The university continues to maintain its institutional partnerships with Israel through study-abroad programs, dual degree programs, and research projects. This renders our institution complicit in legitimizing, arming, and promoting a colonial regime built on apartheid and ethnic cleansing. As Maya Wind details in her book Towers of Ivory and Steel, Israeli universities actively sustain Israeli settler colonialism and have for decades enacted “scholasticide,” a term coined by Karma Nabulsi in 2009 to describe attacks on Palestinian scholars, students, and educational institutions, and which now includes the recent bombing and destruction of every Palestinian university in Gaza. Our university is complicit in this violence and erasure.

Through the Israel Innovation Project (IIP), Northwestern collaborates with Israeli academic institutions in the areas of biology, computer science, artificial intelligence, and engineering. Due to the strong relationship between the IDF and Israeli academia, such technological advancements contribute to the strengthening of the Israeli military-industrial complex and its capacity for surveillance and oppression of Palestinians.

Furthermore, Northwestern has chosen to actively participate in the production of propaganda and misinformation. The IIP constantly operates beyond its stated mission of scientific cooperation –“to advance Northwestern’s technological and scientific partnerships with Israeli institutions of higher learning”– and acts instead as a mouthpiece of the Israeli government. It sponsored the Chicago Festival of Israeli Cinema, an event that openly promotes Zionist propaganda; and it routinely platforms Zionist officials, such as former Vice Prime Minister and Foreign Minister Tzipi Livni, who directly denied Israeli responsibility for the safety of civilians in Gaza, and former Prime Minister Ehud Olmert, whose stated solution to the “demographic problem” is to “minimize the number of Palestinians.” Given the International Court of Justice’s preliminary ruling on the matter of genocide in Gaza, Northwestern University could be found guilty by association as a public relations partner of the settler colony of Israel.

ESCAPING ACCOUNTABILITY

Finally, in spite of its formal commitment to UN-supported Principles for Responsible Investment, the university withholds public access to its investments, thereby evading accountability from its community, student, and staff stakeholders. Without the university ever disclosing its investments or those of its investment managers, we cannot hold the administration accountable. The Board of Trustees even goes so far as to state that “on very rare occasions, a continued investment may be so morally reprehensible, such as investments that directly support slavery, apartheid, or genocide, that such investment would necessitate the University’s divestment.” Echoing the Board of Trustees’ own commitments, we do not consent to the misuse of university resources for morally reprehensible investments. We, the true stewards of this institution, have a right to know that our tuition and labor are not being invested to fund companies that materially support the genocide and dispossession of Palestinians.
