

nationalsjp

nationalsjp Today, October 12, 2025, three days after the ceasefire deal announcement, journalist Saleh Al-Jafarawi was martyred by the Zionist-proxy Doghmosh clan.

After enduring genocide for nearly two years, on top of the decades-long genocidal blockade, Saleh was killed for the very job that many of his colleagues have been killed for—journalism.

Saleh was beloved by his people and was principled in his duty to report on all aspects of Palestinian life in Gaza throughout the genocide, covering not only moments of grief, but also moments of joy and hopefulness among friends, family, and community. Now, Saleh's brother, Naji Al-Jafarawi, will at last be released from the brutal Zionist dungeons but instead of celebrating his return with his family and embracing Saleh, they are forced to mourn and bury him.

Saleh's martyrdom is a testament to the fact that the fight against Zionism in all its manifestations—from the IOF to its collaborators—must continue. In the face of hundreds of thousands of martyred Palestinians these past two years alone, collaborators and informants maintain their spineless disposition as objects of Zionist influence against their own people. Between exploiting Gaza's youth for money using desperately needed aid to the killing of their own people in service of Zionism, collaborators have no place in a liberated future.

Like by berkeleyfsjp and 2,253 others
24 hours ago

Add a comment... Post

nationalsjp Follow ...

bury him.

Saleh's martyrdom is a testament to the fact that the fight against Zionism in all its manifestations—from the IOF to its collaborators—must continue. In the face of hundreds of thousands of martyred Palestinians these past two years alone, collaborators and informants maintain their spineless disposition as objects of Zionist influence against their own people. Between exploiting Gaza's youth for money using desperately needed aid to the killing of their own people in service of Zionism, collaborators have no place in a liberated future.

Death to the occupation. Death to Zionism. Death to all collaborators.

Post

Image credit: National SJP / Instagram and NY Post